

“I hope to impact the imagination through the sensuality of compositions and use of light and form, value and color, and atmospheric and recessional space . . . Painting is an affirmative experience that integrates myself with the world: through the perception of my subjects, the emotion it generates, and expression through my hand.”

—excerpt from Thesis Paper, Why I Paint